Summer, AD 670. An Irish merchant ship is attacked by a pirate vessel off the coast of the Breton peninsular. Murchad, the captain, and one of his passengers, a prince from the kingdom of Muman, named Bressal, are killed in cold blood after they have surrendered. Among the other passengers who manage to escape the slaughter are Sister Fidelma of Cashel and her faithful companion, Brother Eadulf. Bressal was her cousin and Murchad had been a friend of long standing. Fidelma is determined to bring the killers to justice. But her task is not going to be easy. Her quest will be the most dangerous she has undertaken and lead her to the land of Pou Kaer, domain of the evil lord, Taran, where she will confront Koulm Maro -- The Dove of Death...
