Von Nathan Dylan Goodwin : The Lost Ancestor (The Forensic Genealogist series Book 2) (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Lost Ancestor (The Forensic Genealogist series Book 2) (English Edition):

Kundenrezensionen Hilfreichste Kundenrezensionen 0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. good fast moving story Von Jane Weninger Found author's use of modern terminology during past flashbacks not so good, otherwise clever story woven into that 'looking for my past' subject which is becoming more and more popular today. Mr. Goodwin certainly knows his stuff. Good read. Look Forward to next book.

Kurzbeschreibung From acclaimed author, Nathan Dylan Goodwin comes this exciting new genealogical crime mystery, featuring the redoubtable forensic genealogist, Morton Farrier. When Morton is called upon by Ray Mercer to investigate the 1911 disappearance of his great aunt, a housemaid working in a large Edwardian country house, he has no idea of the perilous journey into the past that he is about to make. Morton must use his not inconsiderable genealogical skills to solve the mystery of Mary Mercers disappearance, in the face of the dangers posed by those others who are determined to end his investigation at any cost. This is the second book in the Morton Farrier genealogical crime mystery series, although it can be enjoyed as a stand-alone story. The first Morton Farrier novella - The Orange Lilies - follows on from this book and was published 1st December 2014. If you enjoy a novel with a keen eye for historical detail, solid writing, believable settings and a sturdy protagonist, The Lost Ancestor is a safe bet. Here British author Nathan Dylan Goodwin spins a riveting genealogical crime mystery with a pulsing, realistic story line that moves coherently between the 21st and 20th century, weaving past with present in an intriguing manner. ber den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Born in the famed battle town of Hastings, England, Nathan Dylan Goodwin has always had a passion for writing in one form or another. Having gained a 2:1 degree in Radio, Film and Television studies, Nathan went on to gain a Masters degree in Creative Writing, from Canterbury Christ Church University. Nathan started his writing career with non-fiction, his first book Hastings at War being published in May 2005. This was followed by three further local history books pertaining to the area around his home town of Hastings. His first forays into fiction writing culminated in the publications in 2013 of A Very Old Man (short story) and Hiding the Past (genealogical crime mystery novel). The second book in the Forensic Genealogist series (The Lost Ancestor) was published in August 2014. In his mid-thirties, Nathan enjoys spending time with his family and young son. When not writing, he can be found changing nappies, pottering in the garden, walking, taking photographs, reading and, of course, writing. He is currently working on the next instalment in the Forensic Genealogist series.
