KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen1 von 1 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Nahtlose Fortsetzung in gleicher QualittVon Fuchs JoanDieser 2. Band schliesst dort an, wo der erste aufgehrt hat. Und tut das mit der gleichen Verve, Witz und Spannung. Auf gleich hohem Niveau portraitiert der Autor das Leben in Indien, einzig die Affenhochzeit in der Mitte ist etwas befremdlich. Sonst findet man hier die bereits lieb gewonnenen Charaktere wieder. Was man dem ersten Band vielleicht etwas angekreidet hat, der zu lange Schluss, ist hier dafr eher knapp geraten. Der Cliffhanger fr den 3. Band ist gelegt, ich freue mich darauf.

KurzbeschreibungCan true love triumph in the face of fierce family opposition? Mr Ali's marriage bureau is flourishing but trouble isn't far away once son Rehman begins secretly to woo TV journalist Usha in the small cafes and on the beautiful beaches of South Indian Vizag in an ill-advised romance.Meanwhile the lovely Aruna has a problem or two all her own. She enjoys being Mr Ali's right-hand woman at the marriage bureau, having a wonderful husband Ram, and living in a mansion a far cry from her parents' cramped one-room house; but how long can Aruna remain happy once her spiteful sister-in-law Mani comes home to stay? When Usha's father finds out about Rehman, a Muslim, the fat is in the fire. And what will Mr and Mrs Ali have to say when they discover too their son has been dating a non-Muslim?Werbetext* Brilliant sequel to THE MARRIAGE BUREAU FOR RICH
